Michigan State University Purchasing/Sourcing Position

Michigan State University’s Eli Broad College of Business, Department of Supply Chain Management, has an opening for a tenure system assistant/associate professor in purchasing/sourcing for the 2015-2016 academic year. Duties include research, teaching, and service. Salary and terms are negotiable depending on experience and rank.

The position requires a Ph.D. or equivalent degree from an accredited university. Candidates at the assistant professor level must have a strong research interest and background in purchasing/sourcing research. A demonstrated record of research excellence in purchasing/sourcing and supply chain management is required for the associate professor level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach purchasing/sourcing courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels and to interface with the purchasing/sourcing practitioner community. An ideal candidate will have prior experience in teaching purchasing/sourcing courses and demonstrated ability to work with purchasing/sourcing executives (e.g. for research). Interest in strategic sourcing, supply chain analytics, and/or supplier management is highly desirable.

Review of applications will begin October 24, 2014 and continue until the position is filled. Representatives from the department will be meeting short-listed candidates at the DSI conference. To ensure full consideration, applications should be received by November 14, 2014. Applications must be submitted online at: https://jobs.msu.edu. Refer to posting #0280.

For additional information, please contact Dr. Tobias Schoenherr (schoenherr@broad.msu.edu). MSU is an affirmative-action, equal-opportunity employer committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications/nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.