Weber State University occupies a beautiful campus nestled in the foothills of the Wasatch Mountains in Ogden, Utah, and is 35 miles north of Salt Lake City. The area offers year-round cultural events and outdoor recreational activities. Major industries in the region include aerospace, transportation/logistics, manufacturing, information technology, biomedical, healthcare, and outdoor recreation products and services.

WSU maintains a small-school atmosphere despite its 26,000 full and part-time students and prides itself on its quality teaching, its commitment to meeting the needs of students at every stage of life, and its ongoing service to the community. WSU is a predominately undergraduate university, but has several excellent graduate programs housed within the Goddard School of Business and Economics including the MBA, Master of Accounting, and Master of Taxation programs. The Goddard School is committed to teaching and research excellence as evidenced by its AACSB accreditation, and its students regularly achieve mean scores above the 90th percentile nationally on the ETS Major Field Tests at both undergraduate business and MBA levels.
