Operations and Project Management – Lecturer, Full-Time

Position Details

The University of Washington Bothell, School of Business invites applications for a full-time Lecturer in Operations and Project Management. The appointment will become effective in September of 2015.

The position requires teaching a wide array of Operations, Supply Chain, Project Management, Business Process Improvement, and Statistics courses at all levels of the program including the graduate and undergraduate levels. Typical Course load is 7-8 courses spread across nine months. The candidate should have demonstrated teaching excellence in a majority of the areas listed above as well as at least 10+ years of professional experience in an operations related field. Candidates applying for this position would be expected to collaborate in the partnership programs with the School of Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM). Consequently, a successful candidate will possess an MS in a STEM field as well as an MBA from a highly regarded institution, or foreign equivalent.

Candidates with professional certificates from internationally recognized associations such as the Project Management Institute (PMI) or the American Society of Quality (ASQ) are highly desirable. An ideal candidate would have the experience in program design including new course development and administrative experience in program management. Candidates who have experience with AACSB’s Assurance of Learning Standards and implementing standardized assessment programs would be given priority. In alignment with UW Bothell’s community based-learning goals, preference will be given to candidates who have demonstrated excellence in applying project-based learning practices in the classroom setting by partnering with both for-profit and not-for-profit organizations. UW Bothell School of Business offers a competitive compensation package commensurate with the candidate’s experience.

The University of Washington Bothell campus is located 15 miles northeast of downtown Seattle. We have a fast-growing, state-of-the-art, high-tech campus in Bothell. The School of Business offers BA, MBA, and MS Accounting programs at the Bothell campus and its’ Eastside Leadership Center in Bellevue, WA. The school boasts of a nationally-ranked MBA program which draws students from companies such as Microsoft, Amazon, Boeing, Expedia, Philips and Starbucks. In addition, we offer day and evening undergraduate classes at both locations. The candidate may need to teach at both campuses depending on the program needs.

To Apply: Please submit a one page letter and a detailed curriculum vitae describing your qualifications and interest in the position. Additionally, please submit, complete contact information for three (3) letters of recommendation. Letters will be requested directly by the search committee chair prior to a candidate’s on-campus visit to complete the application packet. The position will remain open until filled. Please address materials to:

Chair, Lecturer, Operations and Project Management Search Committee
University of Washington Bothell School of Business
18115 Campus Way NE, Box 358533
Bothell, Washington 98011-8246
Phone: 425.352.5432 / fax: 425.352.5277

Submit application materials by email to OpsSearch@uwb.edu. Put “OM Lecturer Position” in the subject line.

For additional information, please see our website at http://www.uwb.edu/business

University of Washington faculty engage in teaching, research and service. The University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to, among other things, race, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, status as protected veterans, or status as qualified individuals with disabilities.