Assistant/Associate Professor of Management -MIS

The E. Craig Wall Sr. College of Business Administration at Coastal Carolina University invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in management at the Assistant/Associate Professor level beginning Fall 2015.

The individual hired for this position will have responsibilities in teaching, research, and service. The primary teaching focus for this new colleague will be an undergraduate course in management information systems, with a secondary teaching area in project management. The position may also involve the opportunity to teach in the MBA program, including in the area of technology management. The teaching load may include face-to-face, hybrid and/or online deliveries. In addition to teaching responsibilities, engagement in scholarship is required for this position. The successful candidate will have a scholarship record, or the demonstrated potential, to be qualified as Scholarly Academic under AACSB guidelines. The individual will also be responsible for mentoring undergraduate students and working with student organizations, contributing to assessment of student learning outcomes, and engaging in service activities with colleagues, the department, college, campus, community and professional organizations.

The ideal candidate will have a Ph.D. or D.B.A. from an AACSB accredited institution in management information systems or a closely related discipline. A.B.D’s with a clear plan for completion by December 31, 2015 are also encouraged to apply. A candidate with a completed Ph.D./D.B.A. must have a consistent record of publication in refereed journals. Applicants must have abilities, skills and enthusiasm consistent with teaching excellence and instructional innovation. They must be willing to work with a team of committed faculty who work together to offer a vigorous classroom experience for students. Prior experience with distance learning would be beneficial.

Accredited by AACSB International, the Wall College of Business has faculty members represented by six academic disciplines: Accounting, Economics, Finance, Management, Marketing, and Hospitality and Resort and Tourism. The Management and Decision Sciences department has six concentrations: Entrepreneurial Management, General Management, Human Resource Management, International Management, Operations and Technology Management, and Organizational Leadership. There are over 800 students in the major. The College also offers MBA and MACC graduate programs. Regional outreach is accomplished primarily through activities of the Center for Economic and Community Development, the Clay Brittain Jr. Center for Resort Tourism, the Institute for Community and Business Engagement, and the Conway Innovation Center, and the Each One Teach One program. Additional information about the College and the University and its programs can be obtained by accessing the university’s web site (http://www.coastal.edu).
